SODA POP CAKE

cup shortening
cup sugar
7-ounce bottle cherry pop teaspoons baking powder teaspoon salt
stiffly beaten egg whites cup chopped nuts (optional)

cream shortening and sugar. Mix dry ingredients and add alternately with pop. Fold in egg whites and nuts. This can be baked in three layer cake pans, or a 9 x 13 x 2 inch pan or in 24 cupcake tins, all to be greased and floured. Oven should be preheated to 325 and bake 20 minutes for layer cake, 30 to 35 minutes for 9 x 13 cake, or 25 minutes for cupcakes.

Thanks go to Dennis Fewless for this recipe.

PS, they say it's great with fruit punch flavored pop.

SODA POP FROSTING

3 tablespoons flour
1 cup cherry pop
1 cup sugar
1 cup margarine (or shortening)
1 teaspoon vanilla

To make frosting, put flour and pop in saucepan and cook on low heat until thick. Cool completely. Cream sugar, margarine or shortening and vanilla. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture gradually. Whip until mixture looks like whipped cream.

NOTE; Other flavors of pop may be used in this recipe, if desired. Also the frosting can be made the evening before so it is completely cool, if it is not completely cooled it will separate when put on the cake, especially if the cake is slightly warm.

FOR THE MEMBERS / FROM THE MEMBERS

Our get well wishes and prayers for quick recovery are for Bill Hill. Bill is recuperating from major surgery. Bill, hopefully, should be back on his feet in early December.

We enjoyed a visit this month from member Arnold Richter (he again went home with more cans than he came with). We look forward to meeting all of our members when you are in our area, please stop in.

Mike Taylor now has 405 different brands of root beers & sasarillas, a total of over 2400 cans are in his collection now and still adding at every opportunity.

Another get well wish for Victoria Herberta, who is recovering from a bout with pneumonia. The Pop Can Man and wife traveled to see the fantastic collection of the Ewells. This past month we seen the excellent pop cans of Ed & Ann. There are many unique cans in their collection, many brands I have never seen before, and displayed so well.

E J Ritter, NPCC member #49, asked us to pass this on to you. E J had sold his root beer collection 5 months ago, but then had second thoughts. In the past 5 months he has written letters, made phone calls, traded, bought, found, begged and bartered to start his collection again. Would you believe that he now has 303 brands of root beers (when he sold his collection he had 306) not bad for only 5 months.

A current NPCC membership list is available from the newsletter for $1.50 postpaid.

The Can World Spotlight has a special treat for the Root Beer collectors this month. Dad's Root Beer is spotlighted for an in-depth generation study in the supplement sheet to the Can World Pop Can Guide. A new addition, the Brand and Canners section, has been made possible by the establishment of a computerized master file for pop cans. The file already contains more than 10,000 different pop cans and is over 200 printed pages long. Many man (person)-hours have been expended in building this file, but it's existence provides many exciting possibilities to assist and make collectors more knowledgeable about the hobby of pop can collecting.

Hopefully, examination of the possibilities of using this file will excite your imagination too.

- An inexpensive catalog of many thousands of collectible pop cans.
- An easy way to provide an up-dated listing of all cans in your collection.
- A quick approach to developing a trade/sell list of duplicate cans, or a want list.
- A listing for specialty collectors of all cans known in their specialty areas.

A Can World Spotlight in a future article will more fully describe the Pop Can Master File and tell how you as a collector can help participate in building this file.

In addition to the Dad's section, the end of the "C's" alphabetical listing and the beginning of the "D's" is presented in this month's supplement sheet.

The silk-screened LBJ soda bottle shown in this article was stolen from my shop, Marie's Collectibles, on October 23, 1980.

Should such a bottle be offered for sale in the future, at a "good buy" price, or should it be found in a collection where proof of purchase is questionable, kindly notify me.

A $50.00 reward, upon receipt of this bottle, will be forwarded to the person returning it.

LBJ's "GLASS CADILLAC"

by Victoria Herberta

Of all the antique, or otherwise collectible bottles of recent vintage, wouldn't you know it, sure as everything about the man, LBJ, "Texas Style," left his very own glass Cadillac.

In November, 1960, Lyndon Baines Johnson (of Johnson City, Texas) was elected Vice-President of the United States. So, typically Texan, in the early part of 1961, Ol' Lyndon pitched a savory inaugural B-B-Q at his famed Texas "White House" ranch on the Pedernales River.

For that celebrated occasion, Baines (or "Pains," depending upon one's political fidelity) served 240 special-made bottles of Canada Dry Club Soda to his guests – a terribly unimaginative quantity for a man of his dexterity, considering a third of the countryside now claims to have attended.

The bottles were not unusual in size or shape. However, with a Texas-sized "but": the Red, White, Navy Blue, and Gold-enameled label was startling! It contained the Seal of the Vice-President of the U.S.A. – Eagle and all – prepared especially for the Honorable LBJ.

Regarding the 240 bottles produced for that moment, now captured forever-in-glass as History, approximately 45 were retrieved by astute collectors from the "Little White House" refuse dump; long after a number had been brandished homeward-bound by departing guests. Despite diligent efforts to locate, by horse-trading, "wised-up early," potential buyers of this ware: less than 80 have been accounted for worldwide.

Why LBJ's "GLASS CADILLAC"? Well, as far back as 1973, some owners were refusing a $100 Bill to let an LBJ Vice-Presidential bottle out of their future-seeing, clenched, big ole hands; hanging on with adamant "Texas-sized" grasps?*
